Theme Introduction

INSPIRING FUTURES, UPHOLDING RESPONSIBILITY

At Uno Minda, we believe responsibility and aspiration walk together, shaping the world we wish to create. The future is not merely something that unfolds; it is something we nurture with care, vision, and the courage to act with purpose. For us, progress has always meant more than achievement, it has meant leaving behind footprints of hope and opening doors to possibilities that endure across generations.

Inspiring Futures is an affirmation that every life we touch carries the spark of tomorrow, and every promise we uphold strengthens the foundation for lasting change. We believe inspiration begins with listening, with recognising the dreams and struggles around us, and with walking alongside people as partners in their journey forward.

Upholding Responsibility means balancing vision with empathy, action with integrity, and growth with respect for people and the environment. This harmony defines the essence of our Foundation: to inspire futures filled with dignity and opportunity while carrying the weight of responsibility with sincerity and heart.

For us, true progress lies not only in outcomes, but also in confidence, resilience, and hope that flourish when responsibility becomes a way of life.

Chairperson's Message

FROM THE CHAIRPERSON'S DESK

We strive to ensure that children receive quality education, women and youth gain sustainable means of livelihood, families have access to essential healthcare, and critical civic infrastructure reaches those who need it the most.

Dr. Suman Minda

Dear Esteemed Stakeholders,

I am deeply gratified to reflect on the remarkable progress made by the Suman Nirmal Minda Foundation over the past year. What began as a personal commitment to support marginalised communities has evolved into a focussed and enduring mission dedicated to creating meaningful, measurable change. From the outset, our aim has been to address local priorities with empathy and precision, and this year, those efforts translated into visible, positive impact.

At our core, SNMF exists to open doors of opportunity and reinforce the social fabric of the communities we serve. We strive to ensure that children receive quality education, women and youth gain sustainable means of livelihood, families have access to essential healthcare, and critical civic infrastructure reaches those who need it the most. In every intervention, we emphasise on dignity, inclusion and a sense of shared ownership. Rather than merely delivering programmes, we focus on instilling confidence, developing skills and nurturing self-reliant communities that can flourish from within.

Our Samarth Jyoti community schools have delivered stronger learning outcomes through targeted academic support, with students achieving commendable results in Class 10 and 12 board examinations—demonstrating the value of consistent, high-quality teaching. Vocational training programmes, especially those focused on empowering women like Geeta Devi in Pantnagar, have successfully transformed learning into livelihood opportunities. Over 5,000 individuals gained digital literacy skills, giving them a distinct advantage in today's technology-driven world. Through health and eye screening camps, we reached thousands—many receiving their first formal health check-ups and essential referrals. Infrastructure enhancements such as RO water plants, school kits, and sanitation upgrades have further uplifted living conditions across numerous villages.

In parallel, our Suman Nirmal Minda Schools in Detroj (Gujarat) and Hosur have emerged as centres of academic and holistic excellence. The Detroj school proudly ranked among the Top 15 in the Times School Ranking, reflecting our unwavering focus on quality education. Students have excelled not only in Class X and XII board examinations but also in sports and extracurricular pursuits. Our approach combines improved academic delivery with structured counselling, regular PTMs, teacher capacity building, and vibrant co-curricular engagement—ensuring the all-round development of every child.

Together, these efforts reaffirm our purpose: to create long-term sustainable value for communities, while fostering dignity, inclusion, and opportunity for all.

Over time, the Foundation has evolved from being a programme executor into a trusted partner that listens attentively, adapts effectively and works collaboratively. Internally, we have strengthened our processes and embraced a more data-led approach, shifting our focus from activity-driven outreach to outcome-oriented programmes. We aim to deepen this impact and broaden our reach in the years ahead.

As we look ahead, our resolve is to scale proven models, refine our approach where required and stay anchored to our core values by engaging meaningfully with local communities, partners and the wider Uno Minda family. I extend my heartfelt thanks to every individual and organisation that has supported this journey. Your trust and dedication inspire us daily, and together, we move forward with purpose and care.

Executive Chairman's Message

INSIGHTS FROM THE EXECUTIVE CHAIRMAN

I am equally inspired by the resilience of women and youth who, through our livelihood initiatives, have discovered new pathways to independence and dignity.

Nirmal Kumar Minda

Dear Stakeholders,

I have always believed that the true measure of our success lies not only in the growth of our business but in the lives we are able to positively impact. At Uno Minda, this belief has been our guiding light, shaping how we serve the communities around us through the Suman Nirmal Minda Foundation. For me, community development is not an obligation—it is a responsibility and a shared journey towards a better, more sustainable future.

Education has always been close to my heart. Watching children at our Samarth-Jyoti centres and The Suman Nirmal Minda Schools learn with confidence, improve their performance, and dream of brighter futures fills me with immense hope. It reminds me that every small step in strengthening the foundation of learning can open doors of opportunity for generations to come.

I am equally inspired by the resilience of women and youth who, through our livelihood initiatives, have discovered new pathways to independence and dignity. Whether it is a young woman starting her own business or a youth gaining digital literacy skills, these stories reflect the power of opportunity to transform lives.

Healthcare is another area where I believe our efforts make a profound difference. These interventions are about much more than care—they are about dignity, awareness, and long-term well-being.

Underlying all of these is our commitment to sustainability. I strongly believe that growth cannot come at the cost of the environment. Our initiatives around clean energy, water conservation, and responsible waste management are steps toward protecting the planet while nurturing healthier communities.

I am deeply grateful to our stakeholders for walking alongside us with trust and encouragement. Your support strengthens our resolve to keep pushing boundaries and creating impact that is inclusive, future-ready, and sustainable.

As I look ahead, I remain personally committed to ensuring that Uno Minda is known not only for its business excellence but also for its humanity—for the values of care, responsibility, and innovation that define who we are.

Managing Director's Message

IN THE WORDS OF THE MANAGING DIRECTOR

Our work in health and well-being has brought preventive healthcare, menstrual hygiene awareness, and eye screening camps to underserved communities, improving everyday life for thousands.

Ravi Mehra

Dear Stakeholders,

The vitality of any community lies in its shared progress. At the Suman Nirmal Minda Foundation, we are proud to have fostered this collective growth through inclusive, need-based initiatives rooted in local realities.

Since our inception, we have steadily expanded our reach and deepened our impact across four key thematic pillars.

In education, over 7,000 children have benefited from remedial classes, primary and secondary education support, digital learning initiatives in government schools, and the enhancement of school infrastructure.

Through our skill development programmes, nearly 1,500 youth and women have received training in tailoring, beauty culture, digital literacy, and more—many of whom have since gained formal employment or established independent livelihoods.

Our work in health and well-being has brought preventive healthcare, menstrual hygiene awareness, and eye screening camps to underserved communities, improving everyday life for thousands.

In community infrastructure, interventions such as the construction of toilets and installation of RO water plants have addressed critical needs while enhancing dignity, safety, and quality of life.

But beyond numbers, what truly matters are the opportunities created. Whether it's a child staying in school or a young woman achieving financial independence, these outcomes underscore the transformative power of inclusive development. We are confident that the systems we've built will continue to create lasting impact for years to come.

These milestones would not have been possible without the unwavering support of our stakeholders—community members, partners, local authorities, and our dedicated employees. Your trust and collaboration remain our greatest strength, and we look forward to continuing this journey together.

Message from the Chief Human Resource Officer

CHIEF HUMAN RESOURCE OFFICER'S NOTE

The way our teams have designed community-led, scalable, and sustainable programmes—whether in education, healthcare, livelihood creation, or inclusion of persons with disabilities—demonstrates a remarkable sense of purpose and vision.

Garima Garg

Dear Stakeholders,

It gives me immense pride to write this note as I step into my new role as Chief Human Resources Officer at Uno Minda. In my initial month with the organisation, I had the opportunity to experience first-hand the incredible work being done through the Suman Nirmal Minda Foundation (SNMF) and our Samarth-Jyoti Centres. The passion, commitment, and impact of these initiatives have left a deep impression on me.

Having seen CSR efforts across various organisations, I can confidently say that the Uno Minda CSR framework and the SNMF model stands out as truly exemplary. The way our teams have designed community-led, scalable, and sustainable programmes—whether in education, healthcare, livelihood creation, or inclusion of persons with disabilities—demonstrates a remarkable sense of purpose and vision.

Over the past year, our CSR initiatives have become even more structured and impactful. Education programmes have strengthened learning outcomes, healthcare outreach has brought quality care to underserved communities, livelihood training has created sustainable employment opportunities, and our disability inclusion work has helped individuals gain dignity and confidence. Beyond measurable results, what stands out is the trust and partnership we have built with the communities we serve—a foundation for lasting transformation.

For Uno Minda, contributing to society is not just a responsibility, but a core part of who we are. The CSR work reflects our belief that business success is meaningful only when it uplifts people and communities. Moving forward, we will continue to deepen this commitment with sincerity, consistency, and care.

I extend my heartfelt appreciation to our dedicated teams, implementation partners, and community members whose passion and trust make this journey possible. Together, let us build on this strong foundation and continue creating impact that inspires change.

HEAD-GROUP CSR'S PERSPECTIVE

Our future direction focuses on scaling our efforts while staying closely attuned to local needs ensuring that every intervention remains inclusive, relevant, and sustainable.

Gaurav Kumar

Dear Stakeholders,

At Uno Minda, every milestone reaffirms our commitment to trust-led community engagement and creating a lasting impact. We continue to advance with strategic and sustainable CSR interventions, making meaningful progress across our four core thematic areas under the aegis of the Suman Nirmal Minda Foundation. Corporate Social Responsibility is more than a promise—it reflects our sincere dedication to driving meaningful and enduring change.

In Education, our digital learning initiatives and after-school remedial programmes have consistently supported underprivileged students, helping them improve their academic performance while fostering holistic development. We also launched another senior secondary institution The Suman Nirmal Minda School in Hosur, Tamil Nadu—building on the successful models established in Gujarat and Bagla. These schools are equipped with modern facilities and are committed to delivering value-based, quality education to communities. In Preventive Healthcare, awareness sessions, preventive screenings, and primary health services have reached underserved communities, improving health outcomes and knowledge. Through our Skill Development initiatives, women-led entrepreneurship programmes have empowered individuals with practical skills and the confidence to pursue sustainable livelihoods.

But these accomplishments are more than just numbers. They represent renewed hope, restored dignity, and communities taking ownership of their development journeys. A particularly encouraging trend has been the increase in active local participation and a growing sense of ownership across regions.

Looking ahead, we remain committed to deepening our impact through stronger partnerships, technology-driven interventions, and a robust, data-led approach. Our future direction focuses on scaling our efforts while staying closely attuned to local needs ensuring that every intervention remains inclusive, relevant, and sustainable.

I am honoured to walk alongside a team whose dedication is unwavering, to collaborate with partners who share our values, and to engage with communities that continue to inspire us every day.

I extend my heartfelt thanks to our board members, and advisors for their invaluable guidance, and to senior management for their continued support. Most importantly, thank you to all our stakeholders for your trust and confidence as we move forward together building a more equitable tomorrow.

EDUCATION

EMPOWERING FUTURES THROUGH LEARNING

Despite near-universal primary enrolment, India continues to struggle with learning poverty, where children attend school but fail to acquire basic skills. UNESCO's GEM Report 2024–25 notes that 73% of children in developing countries, including India, cannot read and understand a simple text by age 10¹. While foundational learning has seen marginal improvement, the gap remains stark: only 23.4% of Class III students in government schools can read a Class II-level text (up from 16.3% in 2022), and just 33.7% can do basic subtraction². These numbers highlight the disparity between enrolment rates and meaningful learning outcomes among students.

Uno Minda and our CSR arm, SNMF, believe that quality education lays the foundation for long-term societal transformation. For communities to grow equitably, children and young adults must have access to inclusive, consistent, and empowering learning environments. By nurturing curious minds and encouraging learning from an early age, we aim to break cycles of disadvantage and help shape futures that are driven by self-reliance and informed choices.

To make this vision a reality, we have invested in multiple education-centric initiatives. These include our community schools and supplementary coaching centres, which enhance foundational learning for underprivileged students. Through structured academic support, value-based education, digital literacy, and infrastructure upgrades in government schools, we strive to remove barriers and create learning spaces that support intellectual and personal growth at every stage.

Samarth-Jyoti Community School: Learning beyond Limits

Students who once struggled to keep up are now showing a renewed enthusiasm for learning. One such example is Riya, a Class 10 student at Samarth-Jyoti Community School in Naharpur, who, after previously skipping classes due to difficulty understanding the lessons, now looks forward to going to school. Her experience reflects the quiet transformation taking place across our education programmes.

Designed to provide quality education to out-of-school and underserved children, Samarth-Jyoti Community Schools operate in Naharpur and Karnawas (Haryana) and Pune (Maharashtra), supported by remedial programmes across multiple locations. In the last year, 435 students directly benefitted from these schools, while enrolments for the next year have already surpassed targets at 103% (523 students).

The introduction of peer mentoring, remedial classes, and targeted academic support has led to notable academic outcomes. Both Class 10 and 12 saw a 100% pass rate, with top-performing students achieving scores above 92%. These results were further strengthened by focused efforts in Mathematics and English, which helped improve overall subject scores by 8% and 6%, respectively. Alongside academics, consistent participation in co-scholastic activities such as art, science exhibitions, and model-making ensured that creative learning remained an integral part of the school experience.

Efforts to strengthen the home-school connection saw 85% parental participation in this year's PTMs. With teacher capacity building, digital content integration, and pedagogy aligned with NEP 2020, these schools are becoming inclusive, future-ready learning spaces.

At Uno Minda, our approach to community development is rooted in long-term thinking and genuine engagement. Whether it's nurturing learning, promoting well-being, enhancing skills, or fostering inclusion, our initiatives reflect a deep sense of purpose. Every step we take is guided by the values that define us and driven by a belief that real progress must benefit everyone it touches. Through this lens, we continue to shape interventions that are thoughtful, responsive, and built to endure.

The Suman Nirmal Minda School: Shaping Holistic Achievers

When asked what she enjoyed most about school, Ananya, a Grade 6 student from TSNMS Gujarat, replied, "Our Robotics class! We get to build and learn." This excitement reflects the innovative learning culture at The Suman Nirmal Minda School (TSNMS).

With 974 students enrolled in Gujarat and 190 in Hosur, TSNMS offers child-centred, inclusive education from pre-primary to senior secondary levels, with a focus on experiential learning, creative expression, and holistic development. In FY 2024-25, both campuses achieved a 100% board exam pass rate across Grades 10 and 12. These academic milestones were complemented by strong performances in Olympiads and art competitions, reflecting the school's balanced focus on scholastic excellence and creative development.

The year also marked the rollout of new-age curricula, including:

- Robotics (500 students)
- Financial literacy (250 students)
- Sanskrit (100 students)

The blended learning approach seamlessly combined academic rigour with a wide array of co-curricular experiences, ensuring a more holistic development journey for students. This balance was reflected in activities such as sports camps, podcast series, and student-led lecture events, while experiential learning remained central through talent expos, oratory competitions, and educational visits to IIT Gandhinagar and Science City.

At TSNMS Hosur, these efforts were further strengthened by a sharper focus on early childhood learning, with Montessori methods, differentiated assessments, and inclusive clubs designed to nurture each child's unique potential. Environmental consciousness was also woven into the curriculum through seed rallies and sustainability workshops, reinforcing values beyond the classroom.

These academic and co-scholastic strides were amplified by strong parental involvement and community engagement. Whether it was proactively addressing withdrawal concerns or securing 95% attendance at Annual Day celebrations, the school's collaborative approach has been instrumental in driving student success and community participation.

Our commitment to education continued to take shape through initiatives focused on improving both access and quality. We introduced a range of programmes designed to strengthen foundational learning and encourage long-term academic growth, right from community schools and study centres to academic support and exam coaching. The impact of these measures was reflected by the improved academic performance, higher pass rates, and increased parental engagement. By promoting inclusive education and encouraging curiosity, we continue to support enhanced outcomes for the next generation.

Remedial Programmes: Bridging Gaps, Unlocking Potential

Akash, a Class 8 student from Pantnagar, once found Math daunting. Today, he solves problems with ease and even tutors his younger brother; one of many quiet transformations sparked by our Remedial Programme. Over the past year, this initiative has benefitted 526 students across 13 locations, providing after-school academic support, foundational literacy and numeracy sessions, and context-driven life-skills training tailored to each learner's pace.

Technology has emerged as a powerful enabler in this journey. With the use of smartboards, curated YouTube content, and WhatsApp-based feedback loops for parents, we have enabled a more interactive and connected learning experience. Academic sessions placed special emphasis on Maths and Science, addressing persistent learning gaps, while health and hygiene workshops boosted attendance and improved classroom focus.

What has helped sustain this progress is our close work with communities. Dropout rates have been kept in check through context-specific teaching methods and continuous local engagement. Our instructors, trained in NEP 2020 methodologies and digital tools, infused fresh energy and structure into each session, helping students reconnect with their learning.

For these children, the programme is more than just a second chance at academics; it has become a pathway to self-belief and aspiration. By supporting them where they are and helping them move forward, we are not only closing academic gaps but also laying the foundation for a more hopeful and stable future.

Our CSR efforts in Farukh Nagar have continued to make meaningful strides in areas that matter most, education and community empowerment. This year, our remedial education programme supported government school students by helping bridge academic gaps, with 30 children enrolled and 25 completing the training. We also introduced the HP-CLAP programme in the region, which focused on enhancing digital literacy and IT skills among young learners through structured, in-classroom sessions. Together, these initiatives not only improved learning outcomes but also strengthened confidence among learners, reinforcing our commitment to practical, inclusive, and locally relevant impact.

SKILL DEVELOPMENT

BUILDING FUTURES THROUGH WORKFORCE UPGRADATION

At Uno Minda, we recognise that skills are the stepping stones to self-sufficiency. In today's dynamic economy, technical know-how and hands-on abilities are vital for individuals to secure meaningful employment and generate sustainable incomes. By equipping people with market-relevant skills, we empower them to take charge of their futures and contribute more actively to their communities.

In line with this belief, our efforts in this space focus on enhancing employability through practical training and capacity building. Through platforms like the Samarth-Jyoti Vocational Training Centre, and dedicated courses in tailoring, beauty culture, computer literacy, and digital learning via HP initiatives, we offer targeted programmes that meet the distinct needs of various age groups. We also organise workshops, awareness sessions, and capacity-building forums aimed at helping individuals realise their potential and pursue sustainable opportunities.

Samarth-Jyoti Vocational Training Centre

At the heart of SNMF's skill-building efforts are our Samarth-Jyoti Centres, which serve as neighbourhood hubs of opportunity for youth and women seeking livelihood-linked training. These Centres provide mentorship, cultivate discipline, and offer a renewed sense of possibility. The newest Centre launched this year in Harohalli, Bengaluru, has already started engaging with underserved communities, extending our reach and impact across geographies. By offering market-relevant courses under one roof, our Centres support learners at every step, from first-time exposure to skills, to helping them explore self-employment and job placements. In doing so, we are gradually building ecosystems where skill development becomes both a family and community aspiration.

- New Samarth-Jyoti Centre inaugurated: Harohalli, Bengaluru

- Integrated support offered: Awareness drives, Mobilisation, Counselling, Training, and Placements

Cutting and Tailoring Course

Tailoring is a way for women to earn, take charge of their time, and feel more like themselves. Our Cutting and Tailoring course continues to be one of the most sought-after programmes, particularly among homemakers, school dropouts, and rural women. This year, participants used the training not just to find jobs but also to set up tailoring shops from home, often stitching school uniforms, saree falls, and daily wear for their neighbourhoods. For many, this was their first step into income generation. The course also helps build confidence, financial literacy, and goal-setting, tools that are critical for long-term empowerment.

Beauty Culture Course

Designed to tap into the growing personal care industry, our Beauty Culture course equips participants with both foundational and advanced grooming skills. From threading and waxing to facials and bridal make-up, the training enables women to either work at salons or provide services from their homes. This year, many trainees began earning within months of course completion, and some even built repeat clientele in their villages and localities. The course is also designed to instil hygiene, customer interaction, and entrepreneurial thinking, which help them sustain and grow their practice over time.

Self-Help Group (SHG) Programme

In many regions, women face restrictions on mobility and income-generating activities. SNMF's SHG programme addresses this challenge by fostering collective action. Through group formation, financial training, and exposure visits, women learn to trust their capabilities and collaborate on small business ideas. Many SHGs initiated savings schemes or income-generating activities such as stitching, papad-making, or selling household items. More importantly, these groups gave women a platform to share experiences, solve common problems, and gain a sense of agency in community decisions.

- Activities conducted: Savings, Micro-Business, Income-Sharing
- Outcomes: Increased Community Visibility and Voice for Women Participants

At Samarth-Jyoti, we believe true empowerment comes when communities actively participate in their own growth. The involvement of Self-Help Groups (SHGs) has been a strong pillar in strengthening our initiatives. Their support not only amplifies our education and skill development efforts but also ensures sustainability through collective ownership. Together, we are creating a model where women and communities are not just beneficiaries, but equal partners in driving empowerment and social change.

Digital Literacy Programmes

Computer Literacy Training Programme

In today's technology-driven world, digital skills can make or mar anybody's future. Through our basic computer training courses, we have introduced school and college students, as well as community youth, to essential IT skills such as MS Office, typing, and internet usage. For many, this is their first exposure to a computer. The sense of confidence and employability that comes with even basic digital literacy was visible in the stories of students who began helping their families with online forms, digital payments, and job applications.

HP-CLAP (Continued Learning Access Programme)

The HP Continued Learning Access Programme (HP-CLAP) was introduced as a mobile IT literacy initiative under our Vocational Training portfolio, with the objective of bridging the digital divide for students from government schools. Designed to strengthen basic digital literacy, the programme trains students in computer operations, Microsoft Office tools, internet use, and online safety through hands-on sessions conducted within school premises. HP-CLAP was rolled out in the NCR and Chennai region, in partnership with HP India as part of a CSR collaboration that supports digital learning. This collaboration is aimed at equipping students with essential 21st-century skills and building their confidence in using technology for both academic and everyday needs.

Strategic Initiatives

World Youth Skills Day

To mark World Youth Skills Day, a series of targeted workshops were held across Samarth-Jyoti Centres to strengthen the employability, confidence, and job readiness of vocational students. Designed in line with the trades taught at the Centres, the sessions were conducted in partnership with industry professionals, training agencies, and CSR volunteers.

The workshops focused on the following key areas

Communication & Workplace Etiquette

Basic spoken English, professional communication, grooming, and workplace behaviour

Career Guidance & Job Readiness

Resume preparation, mock interviews, and sector-wise job role awareness

Digital Literacy

Email writing, safe online practices, job search skills, and using tools like MS Word and Excel

Financial Literacy

Understanding salary slips, PF/ESIC benefits, banking processes, and personal finance basics

These sessions provided practical, real-world knowledge to help students bridge the gap between vocational training and employment. By equipping them with life skills beyond their core trade, the initiative supported a smoother transition into the workforce or entrepreneurial ventures.

Capacity-building Workshops

To ensure sustained quality and alignment across all our skill development programmes, SNMF conducted multiple capacity-building workshops for trainers, Centre heads, and mobilisers. These sessions focused on pedagogy, soft skills integration, community engagement strategies, and data tracking. By strengthening our teams through these workshops, we are creating a ripple effect where training quality improves, learner satisfaction rises, and measurable impact becomes more consistent and replicable.

The capacity-building initiatives have significantly improved professional competencies across teachers, students, and SHG members. Pre-assessment workshops focused on foundational training in pedagogy, NEP 2020, and inclusive education, while post-assessment efforts advanced into targeted skill enhancement in communication, technology, and classroom management. Among students, early interventions centred on general awareness, evolving into structured personality development and employability trainings. SHG members progressed from basic design and workflow training to product innovation using recycled materials. Overall, these phased trainings reflect measurable growth in confidence, preparedness, and real-world applicability across all participant groups.

- Focus areas: Training Delivery, Student Mentoring, Post-Course Follow-Up

What drives our CSR work is the ability to uplift lives in ways that last, by addressing real challenges and enabling long-term change. Stories like that of Geeta Devi, a homemaker who became financially independent after completing our tailoring course, remind us of what's possible. Through three months of training, she built a livelihood, gained confidence, and now proudly supports her children's education. These tangible transformations reflect the heart of our efforts. They continue to inspire us, strengthening our resolve to keep extending support where it matters most.

PREVENTIVE AND CURATIVE HEALTHCARE

STRENGTHENING PUBLIC HEALTH THROUGH TARGETED SUPPORT

We are deeply committed to the belief that access to basic healthcare is a fundamental right. Without good health, individuals and families are unable to pursue education, earn livelihoods, or participate meaningfully in social and economic life. Preventive and curative healthcare is central to building resilient communities, especially in rural and underserved areas where medical access remains limited. Our goal is to create healthier living environments that promote physical well-being and reduce preventable health burdens.

To achieve this, we conduct regular general health camps, support cataract surgeries, diagnosis support for cancer patients and improve access to primary care through OPD services and IPD services support. We also invest in menstrual health awareness, general health screenings, and counselling sessions in collaboration with schools and community. By focusing equally on prevention, early diagnosis, and timely intervention, we are helping people maintain better health and supporting a stronger community-wide safety net for vulnerable populations.

Health Camps

Across rural, semi-urban, and industrial clusters, Uno Minda's Health Camps acted as vital touch points for communities otherwise lacking access to preventive healthcare. For thousands, these camps offered their first-ever health screening, empowering individuals to take charge of their well-being. Elderly women learned they had hypertension. Young men discovered they were pre-diabetic. Community members with poor vision, received timely referrals. More than just screenings, these camps triggered a behavioural shift, especially in women and adolescents, who began to adopt healthier diets, seek timely medical consultation, and follow up on identified conditions.

We continue to redefine healthcare access by reaching underserved populations with timely, compassionate care. This year, over 15,000 people benefited from general health and eye check-ups, awareness drives, and screenings. Many underwent their first formal health evaluation, leading to the early detection of chronic conditions and vision impairments. Our camps promoted community engagement, health education, and linkages to government schemes such as Ayushman Bharat. Special outreach for vulnerable groups like truck drivers and industrial workers helped address occupational health risks. These efforts were further strengthened by employee volunteering and partnerships with local health bodies, NGOs, and private providers.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AND WELL-BEING

CHAMPIONING RESPONSIBLE GROWTH AT THE COMMUNITY LEVEL

At Uno Minda, we believe that for true progress to take root, it must reflect in every aspect of people's daily lives. Community development means creating spaces where people feel valued, heard, and supported in living better lives. Whether it is clean drinking water, safe public spaces, or opportunities for cultural and social expression, we see community well-being as central to building cohesive, forward-moving societies.

Our efforts are shaped by a deep understanding of what communities truly need: safety, belonging, and opportunity. With this in mind, we've supported a wide range of initiatives including water purification plants, solar lighting, better sanitation infrastructure, plantation drives, sports tournaments, awareness campaigns, and cultural programmes. On occasions like International Yoga Day and Women's Day, we've brought people together to celebrate wellness and inclusion. Organised by the Samarth-Jyoti CSR team of Uno Minda Group, the three-day programme included capacity-building sessions at the training centre in Naharpur, a field visit to Bagla, and a cultural exposure experience across Gurgaon and New Delhi.

Educators also participated in sessions focused on life skills, emotional intelligence, stress management, and internal financial processes. Each participating centre presented regional updates, showcasing their achievements, innovations, and community impact.

Day 2: Field Visit & Recognition – Bagla & Gurgaon

Participants visited the Samarth-Jyoti school and hospital in Bagla, offering a first-hand view of on-ground impact. A knowledge session by expert Mr. Mathew Varghese highlighted best practices in school functioning and the evolving role of educators. The day continued with an exposure visit to the SLM Skills Centre and a cultural site, ending with a gala evening in Gurgaon. The event included experience sharing, team games, addresses by the CMD and Chairperson, and the distribution of appreciation gifts.

Day 3: Cultural Exposure – New Delhi

The final day featured a heritage and educational tour across New Delhi's cultural landmarks. This immersive experience helped deepen inter-centre bonding and broadened awareness of India's rich cultural landscape.

Focus Areas

- 03 Waste

Energy

At Uno Minda, we are redefining our approach to energy use and environmental responsibility. Through the adoption of advanced energy-efficient technologies and continuous optimisation of our processes, we are actively working to reduce overall consumption. We also prioritise employee engagement by fostering awareness around the importance of energy conservation, thereby embedding sustainability into our organisational culture. In parallel, we are making substantial investments in renewable energy, particularly solar and other clean sources, to integrate sustainable power into our operations. These efforts are helping us significantly lower our carbon emissions while laying the groundwork for a more sustainable future for both our business and the communities we serve.

Water

At Uno Minda, we recognise that water is a vital and finite resource, and we are deeply committed to its conservation. As part of our broader sustainability efforts, we have introduced a variety of measures aimed at reducing water consumption and promoting responsible use across our operations. Through continuous monitoring and awareness-building, we encourage conscious water practices that help limit our environmental footprint while improving cost efficiency. These initiatives are essential to securing long-term water availability for both our business and the communities we impact.

Across our facilities, we are actively working to enhance water efficiency and reduce dependency on local water sources. To support this, we have installed sewage treatment plants (STPs) and effluent treatment plants (ETPs) at multiple sites, enabling us to manage and monitor water use more effectively. We are also adopting advanced technologies such as multi-effect evaporators and ultrafiltration systems, ensuring that every drop is used wisely and responsibly.

Waste

Uno Minda is committed to driving positive change through responsible waste management. We have adopted a range of eco-conscious practices, including recycling, segregation, and composting, to minimise landfill contributions and reduce our environmental footprint. Our focus extends beyond disposal; we actively work to limit waste generation at the source by refining our operational processes.

This continuous improvement mindset helps us operate more efficiently while reinforcing our commitment to sustainability. By managing waste thoughtfully and promoting resource recovery, we support the shift toward a circular economy, where materials are reused and repurposed, extending their lifecycle and reducing environmental harm.
